adTent Air Premium Automatic

adTent Air Premium tent now available with built-in pump

Tired of constantly searching for power outlets, nervously inflating your tent, and battling with tangled cables at events? The adTent Air Premium Automatic event tent is here to make your life easier. Thanks to its built-in battery-powered pump, it operates independently from any power source. The entire set is ready to go wherever you are — on the beach, in the mountains, or in the city center. It's the most advanced and modern outdoor tent in our range.

What makes the new tent stand out?

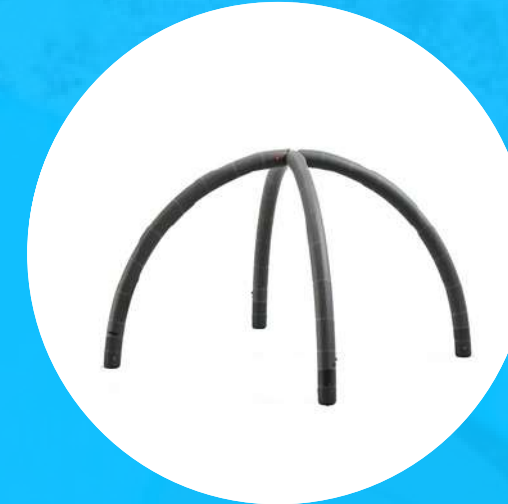

Build-in pump

The pump with integrated power bank is embedded in the leg of the tent.

Safety valve

Protects the tent from over-inflation.

Constant pressure system

The tent can remain inflated for up to 3 days — if the pressure drops, the pump automatically adjusts it.

Air hoses

Ensure even air distribution through all tent legs.

Car adapter

You can now inflate your tent using a car charger.

Bag on wheels

A convenient transport bag with wheels is included in the set.
